On 26 November 1953, DIA Nahrung informed the East German State Secretariat for Procurement and Purchase that it could expect only 21,400 metric tons of wheat imports during the fourth quarter of 1953. Of the wheat to be expected, 15,000 metric tons were to be imported via Stettin and the rest via Krippen. DIA Nahrung was still negotiating for an additional 3,000 metric tons. Wheat deliveries scheduled to be made by Rumania had been canceled.
